

WORKSHOP ON LEARNING AND KNOWLEDGE CONSTRUCION IN ORGANIZATIONS

24 May, 2007 at 13:00

Venue: SimLab, Innopoli 2 (3rd floor), Tekniikantie 14, Espoo

Workshop program

13:00 Welcome / Professor Riitta Smeds, SimLab

Presentations / SimLab research projects

- Miia Jaatinen, D.Soc.Sc. (Communication), Docent, Project Manager, SimLab: Simulations as collective knowledge construction – pragmatic semiotic approach
- Päivi Pöyry, M.A. (Educ.), Lic. Sc. (Tech.), Doctoral Researcher, Project Manager, SimLab: Sharing and creating knowledge in virtual collaboration – social constructivist view on learning at work
- Marika Vääntinen, M.Sc. (Econ.), Doctoral Researcher, Project Manager, SimLab: Organizations on the edge of their proximal zone of development – pragmatic constructivist view on strategy process
- Emmi Valkeapää, M.Sc. (Tech.), Doctoral Researcher, SimLab: Boundary objects in service development – collaborative knowledge construction

15:00 Nikolai Veresov, PhD, Researcher, Kajaani University Consortium
What is development in psychology? How can that be applied in organizations?

16:00 Panel discussion: Professor Matti Vartiainen (TKK), Senior Researcher Ritva Engeström (University of Helsinki), and Assistant Professor John E. Taylor (University of Texas at Austin)

17:00 Buffet at SimLab